Supply Chain Disruptions — Status Update

The availability of products, status of deliveries and company closure information continues to evolve rapidly.

Our team is working with WH&R approved suppliers frequently and we will continue to make you aware of any updates to their information through our website WHRsourcing.com. Information is posted on the Strategic Sourcing tab and on each supplier's profile page located within the Suppliers tab. Reach out directly to your WH&R approved supplier and distributors for updates in your area.

While most of our approved suppliers and distributors in our OS&E, F&B and FF&E categories are operational and adhering to CDC guidelines, delivery capacity may be impacted by government-imposed travel restrictions and driver availability. In addition, demand is still far outpacing supply for certain categories of products. Please work directly with one of our approved suppliers/distributors on current orders in process and to check the status of future orders.
